MONEY IS KING.

The Destiny of Nations Is Shaped By Money Monarchs.

Kings, Princes, Statesmen and Politicians Yield to the Powerful Rothschilds.

And They Make Peace or War To Suit Their Interest.

(See York Tribune.)

Although during the last two or three weeks of Great importance the telegraphic dispatches have kept people on this side of the Atlantic so abundantly informed regarding the opinions and intentions of the rulers and principal statesmen of Europe as completely to mystify persons of average intelligence—since each fresh dispatch published has conflicted in the most flagrant manner with those that have previously appeared—yet, for some reason or another, the American people have been left in complete ignorance concerning the views of those whose opinions are of immensurable greater importance in the present crisis, namely, the so-called "Princes of Finance" in London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. It is they who, far more than monarch or premier, control the situation of the moment, and who hold in their hands the keys of the temple of Beltona. The question as to whether the great gates of the latter are to remain open or shut is determined no longer by the caprice of an emperor, or by the whim of a Prime Minister, but by those who dominate the money market.

There are times when the interests of these men of what is known as the Haute Brigue would be advanced by an outbreak of war, affording an opportunity of profitable investment in neutral countries. It was this that induced them to sanction the conflict between France and Germany in 1870, and later Turkey and Russia seven years later. Just at the present moment, however, it was to be discerned that the world in the last ten days has been called upon to witness the astounding and otherwise inexplicable spectacle of warships of the great Powers of Europe being used to bombard the unfortunate Christian inhabitants of Crete when endeavoring to defend their families and their homes from savagery, outrage and destruction by the barbarous Turks.

The shells hurled by the allied fleet at the Cretans at their Greek sympathizers were fired in defiance not only of public opinion of the entire civilized world—popular sympathy on both sides of the Atlantic being with all the Cretans and the Greeks—but likewise in direct opposition to the inclinations of the various reigning houses of Europe. The suppression of Russia is the favorite sister of King George of Greece.

Moreover, the Crown Prince of Greece, married to one of Queen Victoria's most cherished granddaughters, is a particular favorite of His British Majesty, and it is well known that her sympathies, as well as those of the Prince and Princess of Wales, are all with King George and his family in the present crisis. This did not, however, prevent England's magnificent ironclads from bombarding Greeks and Cretans alike, from training their guns on ships and towns over which the Greek flag was waving and from taking a leading part in creating the plucky little kingdom of the Hellenes.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure

Celebrated for its purity, regularity and点钟fulness. Assures the largest share and all kinds of alteration common to the cheap brands. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., New York.

With no crowned head in Europe does King George stand on a more ignoble footing than with Francis Joseph of Austria. Yet the navy of Austria's chivalrous Kaiser joined that of Queen Victoria and of Emperor Nicholas in endeavoring to reduce Greece to subjection, and received the co-operation of the fleet of France—a nation which, in the early part of the present century, gave expression to its enthusiastic admiration for Greece by actually sending an army of 8,000 men under the command of Marshal Maison to help her in her war of independence against the Turks.

This shows how much the influence of family ties among the reigning houses of Europe has been overrated by those who prefer to see therein an assurance of international amity and alliance. If the guns of the allied fleet have lied upon the Greek flag, it was at the instance of the great financiers of Paris, London, Berlin and Vienna. These gentry have nothing to gain, but on the contrary the sum amount to lose by a full-fledged war just as present between Turkey and Greece. Almost the whole of the enormous national debt of the Ottoman Empire, which, by dint of conversation and reorganization, has been somewhat reduced from its original figure of $1,000,000,000 is held in France and in England, mainly by the Rothschilds, their associates and their clients. They purchased the bonds for a mere song at the time when Turkey first defaulted, and since then they have been gradually increasing in value, thanks to the marked improvement in the finances of the Sublime Porte effected by the international commission of the foreign debt, organized at Constantinople to look after the interests of the bondholders. Any war in which Turkey were to become involved at the present moment would destroy all the good already achieved in this direction, throw back the Porte into the monetary morass from which she is fast emerging, and offer to the Sultan the opportunity of repudiating the liabilities of his Empire, a course to which no one is invited by his Church, which teaches in the most definite manner that it is unnecessary for a follower of the Prophet to fulfill any obligations contracted toward Christians or Jews.

William O. Bradley.

BOTH MUST HANG.

Gov. Bramley Refuses to Interfere in the Walling Case.

Frankfort, Ky., March 15.—Scott Jackson and Alonzo Walling will be hanged at Alexandria on Saturday, March 20, for the murder of Pearl Bryan.

A great many people think that Jackson is more responsible for the crime than Walling, and a strong effort has been made to get the Governor to commute the sentence of the court, so far as Walling is concerned, to life imprisonment. After a thorough investigation the Governor wrote the following on Walling's sentence:

"The jury were the judges of the credibility of the witnesses and their verdict should not be disturbed unless flagrantly against the evidence. The circuit court and appellate court have reviewed the case and declined to interfere. I see no reason why I should commute the sentence, and therefore decline to do so."

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger of a grip is of assuming pneumonia. If respiration is used, however, and Chambord's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for a grippe, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dread disease. It will effect a permanent cure in less than any other treatment. The 25 and 50 sizes at Orme's drug store.

A Bank President.

Paducah, Ky., March 16.—Former President Milton G. Cope, of the First National Bank of Paducah, is a forger to the extent of $13,000, according to the bank officials here. This was discovered a day or two ago but the secret was carefully guarded, and the facts are now given to the public for the first time.

Curiously enough, the Bleichroders and their fellow financiers at Berlin are of the opinion that the Greek government has no right whatsoever to spend a cent in endeavoring to protect its countrymen in Crete from the Turkish oppression and outrage, as long as the interest of the debt remains unpaid in full.

Mr. Cope, it is charged, by forging the names of gentlemen of Mayfield, secured $13,000. The name of R. A. Mays, Cashier of the City National Bank of Mayfield, and W. J. Stayen, of Covington & Co., were forged to a note for $1,000. There were also two notes of $3,500 each, on G. R. Allen and R. E. Allen, prominent tobacco men.

Chicora, Pa., Herald: Richard Venzel reports One Minute Cough Cure the greatest success of medical science. He told us that it cured his whole family of terrible coughs, and colds after all other so-called cures had failed entirely. Mr. Venzel said it assisted his children through a very bad siege of measles. One Minute Cough Cure makes expectation very easy and rapid. At R. F. Haynes.

CONGRESS CONVENES.

The President Message, Contained to the Tariff Question Alone.

Washington, March 15.—The House of Representatives was fully organized today, by the election of speaker, clerk, doorkeeper, sergeant at arms and other officers. It consists of 357 members, of whom 209 served in the last Congress, while 132 have never served in congress before. Politically classified there are 206 Republicans, 122 Democrats and 29 fusion silverites and Populists. There were 341 of them present today. The vote on the election of speaker was:

For Reed, rep., 199; for Bailey, dem., 114; for Bell, pop., 21; and for Mr. Newlands 1.

The President's message is devoted exclusively to the tariff.

The total receipts for the last three fiscal years he said had been insufficient to meet the past three fiscal he said had been insufficient to meet the expenditures by $137,811,000, and the interest on the public debt had increased by $11,503,000. This condition was for congress to correct ample revenue should be provided for the expenses of the government, the prompt payment of pensions and the liquidation of the public debt.

The necessity of the hour was the enactment of a tariff bill that would provide ample revenues and render labor in every field of useful labor liberal wages.

"Before the transaction of other business," the message concluded, "let us provide sufficient revenue."

It is rumored that the patronage will not be handled out very liberally until the tariff bill is passed.

The selection of Bailey by the Democrats as their choice for speaker means that the brilliant young Texan is to be the leader on that side.

The Arbitration Treaty.

The newspapers tell of a big meeting held at Cooper Union, New York last week, to pass resolutions endorsing the proposed arbitration treaty with England. It is said that Cooper Union scarcely ever contained a larger or a more thoroughly cosmopolitan audience than crowded its space at this meeting. Mayor Strong made a brief address advocating the treaty and formal resolutions, calling upon the Senate to ratify the document were introduced. Before taking the vote, which was according to arrangement, to be solid for the resolution, permission was granted to Mr. Lynn to address the meeting. He said:

"Before adopting the resolutions we should stop and pause; who wants this arbitration?"

He then went on to say that England had broken the treaty of 1812, and raised troops and built war vessels for the Confederacy during the civil war and so again broke our treaty.

"The spirit of New York is against such resolutions." (Great cheering). "I care not for the depreciation of securities. I care more for the depreciation of American patriotism. We can have no peace with the robber nation, England. Tonight the Greeks are defending their humble brothers in Crete with England with arms and guns is forcing that unfortunate people by coercion under the Turk. (Applause). A treaty with a government which has permitted the Armenians to be slaughtered by thousands! (Applause). A treaty with a nation that has broken every obligation and violated every pledge of honor she ever made. (Applause). We are a peaceful nation, and we maintain that peaceful attitude with honor that we have always maintained. We ask no war, but in the words of the great Washington, and which this call does not incorporate tonight, 'We seek no entanglements with foreign nations.' (Applause). A treaty that upon its face reads five years and means forever. (Applause).

By the time Mr. Lynn had finished he had ocular evidence that the people were with him, and there was such a unanimous endorsement of his position that the leaders of the meeting would not permit a vote on resolutions condemning the treaty. Mid a storm of "noes" that drowned everything the resolutions endorsing the treaty were declared passed. A fair count would have shown that this body of representatives to New York were bitterly opposed to the treaty; and this is the honest sentiment of nine-tenths of the thinking American people.

TWO MEN KILLED.

A Bloody Affair at Hopkinsville. Police man and His Stayer Dead

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 13.—Henry Lane one of the most efficient policemen of this city, was killed to night at 10 o'clock by George Merritt, who shot him to death in front of Lahey's saloon on Seventh street. Merritt was also killed, it is supposed by one of two others, their names being Moorman and Cravens.

George Merritt had been drinking and was standing in the front door of Lahey's saloon and was acting in a disorderly manner, when officer Lane stepped up and told him he had better go home and behave himself. Merritt used an ugly oath and at the same time pulled a pistol and shot Lane. The ball entered his left eye and penetrated his brain and killed him instantly. With the smoking pistol in his hand Merritt started to leave the spot, when two more shots rang out on the air and the excited crowd saw Merritt fall on his face on the pavement, with a bullet through his heart.

Simultaneously with the firing of these shots, police officers Moorman and Cravens appeared on the scene, and it is generally thought that the shot that killed Merritt came from either one of their pistols, although this has not been determined, as the coroner's jury is now holding an inquest on both bodies.

The sentiment of this community is with the murdered officer who was killed in cold blood by Merritt, who it is said received his just deserts in being killed.

BITTEN BY A MULE

A Caldwell County Man in Danger of Hydrocephalus.

W. H. McCargo, of Scottsburg, was badly bitten by a rabid mule Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The mule became very frantic and Mr. McCargo was trying to conquer him when he was bitten. The animal caught him by the index finger and bit it off, after first kicking him in the right hip and trying to him in the leg.

Mr. McCargo was brought to Princeton and the mangled finger was amputated by R. S. Coleman.

Mr. McCargo is getting along all right, and unless hydrocephalus sets in will be out among the people in the near future.

He is well known in Princeton and the people sympathize with him in his suffering. It seems that the mule had been bitten by a mad dog, which of course the sufferer did not know, else he would not have attempted to work the animal.—Princeton Republican.

Before adopting the resolutions we should stop and pause; who wants this arbitration?

He then went on to say that England had broken the treaty of 1812, and raised troops and built war vessels for the Confederacy during the civil war and so again broke our treaty.

"The spirit of New York is against such resolutions." (Great cheering). "I care not for the depreciation of securities. I care more for the depreciation of American patriotism. The Federal Grand Jury has indicted banker McKnight and five of the aldermen of Louisville for their complicity in the affairs of the German National Bank.

The candidates in Graves county have introduced a new wrinkle in the canvass, which is now in full blast. They carry their own ballot on wheels and eat when they get hungry. The new dodge is nothing more nor less than a traveling commissary department, which consists of a covered wagon, cooking utensils with first and second quartermasters John Knight and Boyd Nance, of near Pottsville, in charge. Though the former is a Populist and the latter an enthusiast over Edward Bellamy's "Looking Backward," they say they do a fair business with the Democratic candidates.

In conclusion I am a Fox man and I expect to speak well of him as I think him an honorable christian gentleman.

Taken In Time.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has achieved a great success in warding off sickness which, if allowed to progress, would have undermined the whole system and given disease a strong foothold to cause much suffering and even to threaten death. Hood's Sarsaparilla has done all this and even more. It has been taken in thousands of cases which were thought to be incurable and after a fair trial has effected wonderful cures, bringing health and strength to the afflicted.

Noah Franklin has been indicted for the murder of Daisy Sullivan in Marshall county. The case is in some respects like the killing of Pearl Bryan. Franklin was paying court to Miss Sullivan. One night as she was passing through a hallway from one room to another, at her home, some one hit behind a rose bush in the yard, shot and killed her. Suspicion pointed to Franklin and it was supposed that she had been killed to hide her shame. After examining about one hundred witnesses, the grand jury charges Franklin with the treacherous deed. The accused had always borne a good reputation.

They also cause many pains and disorders which are often laid to other causes and hence are not easily cured. But as soon as the poisons are removed, all these symptoms and disorders disappear, because there is nothing left to cause them. Nothing succeeds in this like Shaker Digestive Cordial, because it prevents the unwholesome food from fermenting in the stomach, and also helps the stomach to digest its food.

A LIFE SENTENCE

Wiley Leeper Goes to the Penitentiary for Life.

Wiley Leeper, the negro who was the leader and chief actor in the killing of Tom White, some months ago in Caldwell county, was given a life sentence last week at Princeton. Leeper, with a number of other persons, went to White's cabin and called him out, ostensibly to give him a whipping. White suspected that something was wrong and returned to his house and fastened the door, and was followed by Leeper and some one in the crowd shot and killed White. Of the trial the Princeton Lawyer says:

From the first a constable entered the court room and large crowds filled the court room. The plan was "not guilty" and the defense relied on the grounds that Wiley was one of the leaders in the mob which murdered Tom White, still he went to the latter's house only to chastise him for whipping his wife, and that he, Wiley Leeper, did not go into the house or have anything to do with the killing of Tom White. The Commonwealth, however, made out a strong case against the accused and there is general satisfaction at the verdict of the jury in sending Leeper up for life.

THAT OPEN LETTER.

A Friend of Rev. Fox Comes to His Rescue in the Matter.

Mr. Press. Will you please allow me a little space in your valuable paper, as I wish to speak a few words in favor of my friend Henry Fox in reply to the Open Letter I see in the issue of March 11 from Mr. O. T. Justice. I expect I know Mr. Fox as well as Mr. Justice. I notice Mr. Justice pitched "honorable christian gentleman" in Mr. Fox's face several times. Now I expect Mr. Fox is as much an honorable christian gentleman as the writer of the letter.

In regard to Conkseyville church I was born and raised in that community and happen to know more about those matters than Justice. Mr. Fox has been a builder of and a mother of that church for several years, and in time of his first pastorate he had no horse and footed it from Piney creek church, where he lived, to fill his appointment at Conkseyville. I know that Mr. Fox was unmercifully discharged from Conkseyville church and it was through malice and envy by some few of the members, while he was liked by the majority of the members. One thing I know, Mr. Fox is more of an honorable christian gentleman than those members that are persecuting him.

Mr. Justice take your Bible and turn to Matthew 12 chap. and read from 35 to 40 v. Now, Mr. Justice, I am no church member nor never was, but if I was I would never write such a letter about one of my Baptist brothers as you have done.

In conclusion I am a Fox man and I expect to speak well of him as I think him an honorable christian gentleman.

J. A. Wheeler, Frederica, Ky.

at the residence of the late M. N.
Crayne, deal, sell to the highest and best bidder all the personal property of same, consisting of stock of all kinds of farming implements and household goods:

Terms of sale: sums of $5 and over twelve months time, note with approved security bearing six per cent interest; sums under $5 cash in hand.

Come everybody, one fine two year old jack and five jennets to sell.

J. Frank Conger, Admr.

Stray Cow.

A white room cow, red neck and head, weight about 850 lbs, came to my farm four weeks ago. The owner can have same by calling for her and paying charges.
